The Council President James J. Collins II entertained a motion to send the proposed zoning map draft through its procedural necessities to get to public hearing. The motion was made by Ms. Still and seconded by Mrs. Halpin-Brophy. The motion passed.

Elle Spease asked Ms. Still for the document regarding Timber Harvesting in Pennsylvania and where to find it. The slope documents was from Cumberland County.

Mr. Floor spoke on the expense and time that was put into the zoning. He stated he does his best to do what is right and beneficial to friends, neighbors, and family. He felt that the zoning was prepared to move forward. He is here now to resurrect the proposed zoning can move forward. He felt as though he informed people of his intentions. He explained that he worked three times to save the Orr-hole property and his property from development. The last endeavor devastated his retirement fund. He worked to submit plans and guidelines to harvesters. The last harvesters worked to clean up the property and trails. He tries to be a good citizen and neighbor. His hindsight is that he should have explained his intentions. The property he has remaining other than the Orr-hole. R1 allows for road frontage. He spent his time and effort to have access road and driveway for some residents of Yates Street. He wishes to create a piece of land to run behind the Orr-hole beside his house to access it. He wishes to put his oldest son on the deed for the property and the Orr-hole and become a legacy. He is aging and does not have the energy to maintain the Orr-hole any longer. What he has could be a sellable property, for a family unit and the rest would remain preserved. The property will be divided into three properties.

Adjourn – Mrs. Halpin-Brophy made a motion to adjourn that was seconded by Mr. Kendall. The motion passed unanimously.
